COCONUT PINEAPPLE CAKE

INGREDIENTS

- 02494863 - Dawn Exceptional Baker's Request Coconut Flavored Cake Mix 25#
- 02407577 - Dawn Exceptional Crushed Fruit Pineapple Filling Pouch Pak 12/2#
- 02439918 - Dawn Exceptional White Buttercreme Style Icing 32#
- 02493716 - Bakery Essentials Sweetened Coconut Flake 10#
- Fresh Flowers

DIRECTIONS

1. Mix cake according to manufacturer's instructions. Measure 4.5 lbs of batter, deposit 1.5 pounds into a sprayed and papered 8-inch pan. Repeat 3 times
2. Bake at 350°F until cake springs back lightly when touched. Let cool completely.
3. Once cooled, trim the bellies of each cake, saving them for other uses. Pipe buttercreme around the edges of one cake round. Using a #4 gray scoop, scoop pineapple filling on the cake round and spread to edges, place another cake round on top. Repeat with the next layer.
4. Crumb coat with buttercreme, smooth ice, then gently dab cake all over with coconut. Decorate with fresh flowers.

COCONUT SUB-CATEGORIES

DESICCATED COCONUT

Desiccated Coconut is the white meat of a fresh, ripe coconut from which the moisture has been extracted. It has the natural taste, flavor, and aroma of fresh coconut. Dawn offers a variety of formats. Desiccated Coconut is suitable for both sweet and savory applications.

SWEETENED COCONUT

Sweetened Coconut is made with desiccated coconut mixed with sugar, water, propylene glycol (to retain moisture) and salt. The natural flavor and aroma of coconut are evident in this moist and tender product. Also available in a variety of formats, sweetened coconut can be used as a topping or inclusion for cakes, pies, cookies, and pastries.

TOASTED COCONUT

Toasted Sweetened Coconut is sweetened coconut toasted to attain a golden appearance and sweet toasted flavor. Toasted coconut is a great addition as a topping, providing great coconut flavor with a toasted, sweet hint and crunchy mouthfeel.

COCONUT FORMATS

FINE (MACARON)

Fine coconut, also known as Macaron, is often used in cookies, biscuits, candies, and other baked products. This coconut is produced from finely ground desiccated coconut.

MEDIUM

Medium coconut is utilized in many baked products and cereal or granola applications. This coconut is ground similarly to fine coconut to create a larger shape.

SHREDDED

Shredded coconut is produced by grating coconut into thin strands, slightly smaller than coconut flakes. Shreds are frequently used in baked products as a decorative topping.

FLAKE

Coconut flakes are created by grating coconut into slightly longer and wider pieces than the shredded format. Coconut flakes can be used as decorative cake topping or included in batters.

CHIP

Coconut chips are made by cutting coconut into the desired shape and thickness. They can be used as decorative toppings to provide textural elements, with a natural coconut flavor and aroma.

THICK CHIP

Thick chip coconut provides a strong coconut presence with bold flavor, texture, and decorative presentation. This cut of coconut can be utilized as a topping or included in trail mix.
